

Working with...

To Provide Cancer Touch Therapy

What is Made For Life cancer touch therapy all about?

Cancer Touch Therapy was originated 15 years ago through the Made For Life charitable trust. The treatments were developed, taking advice from trained oncology massage teachers, advisors within the oncology team at the Royal Cornwall Hospitals Trust and also Macmillan. It has CIBTAC and CMA (Complimentary Medical Association) endorsements.

It allows everyone to have a treatment, especially those who are in need of it most. The treatments provided by Made For Life have been thoroughly researched and created with doctors and therapists to make a safe but relaxing treatment. There is NO evidence to suggest that massage therapy can spread cancer, although we avoid direct pressure over a tumour site as a sensible precaution.

Therapists are trained to the highest quality of the Made For Life treatments. They have learned the safest ways to perform these treatments and have learnt the theory behind cancer to have the knowledge and medical information to answer any questions or worries you may have. Here at Beauty Infusion we have gained a deeper understanding of what cancer is, the staging and grading of cancer and how the treatments for cancer can affect the need to adapt spa treatments. Full protocols are followed for body and facial treatments.

So why is 'Touch' so important for someone going through cancer?

Touch is important in a physiological and psychological basis. A gentle touch will lower cortisol and increase oxytocin and in essence, boosts the body's immune system and releasing muscle tension. It also reduces stress and tension enabling better sleep and improving recovery. We encourage anyone suffering from cancer or lymphedema to have a made for life treatment as not only are the treatments safe to undertake they are also the perfect answer to turn off from everything and actually have some deep relaxation. Made for life has three sets treatments: Body, Facial or Body and Facial combined using 100% organic skincare and wellbeing range of products. We can also adapt treatments to your needs.

How do I book this treatment?

See your treatment menu for pricing details, email address and contact number for all bookings and enquiries. Remember we are here to help and advise. All our therapists are professionally trained to ITEC standards, are members of the Guild of Beauty and Holistic Therapists and have worked in UK and international spas within the beauty and massage industry. We look forward to seeing you soon!

MADE FOR LIFE

Tel: 07512 422159

